

Aug. 27, 2020

Dear Students,

I'm pleased to share with you that Dineen Hall will be open this Monday, August 31, to those of you who have classes scheduled in the building or who've told us you wish to spend time in Dineen Hall.

We look forward to having you back in the building—provided, of course, that you've met the University's COVID-19 pre-arrival requirements! If you've not supplied a negative COVID-19 test and affirmation of quarantine compliance (where applicable), your ID will not be activated and you'll not be able to access Dineen Hall. Thank you for your diligence in completing those requirements.

Those of you who have registered to be on campus this fall should have received a letter from Dr. Nardella, the Medical Director of the Barnes Center at the Arch informing you that all students accessing campus facilities must complete the University's Daily Health Screening Form (available under "Forms" in your Patient Portal). The form includes just a few questions related to potential exposure and symptoms of COVID-19, as well as instructions on how to proceed if:

- You or a roommate has been directed to self-isolate or quarantine due to suspected or confirmed COVID-19 exposure; or
- You have a temperature or are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms.

The health screening form must be completed every day you plan to be on campus. "On campus" means attending classes, entering Dineen Hall or other campus buildings, participating in on-campus activities, or working on campus. If you will not be accessing campus on a given day, you do not need to complete the form.

To assist you in meeting this requirement, the Barnes Center at The Arch will send you a daily email reminder with a link to the Patient Portal and directions on how to access the form. Please note, the data collected is only used to monitor the health of our campus community to minimize the risk of COVID-19 exposure on campus and to provide students who may be experiencing symptoms with the necessary steps to seek care.

I hope that your semester is already off to a strong start. Thank you for your positivity and optimism, and for your flexibility and understanding. Please continue to visit our law preparedness page for daily updates on the impact of COVID-19 on our operations

Best regards,

Craig M. Boise

Dean and Professor | College of Law