Senior associate in general litigation practice with a particular focus on securities litigation, white collar criminal defense, and federal and state regulatory work. Representative matters included:

- Representing financial institution responding to New York Attorney General inquiry into subprime mortgage securitization practice
- Representing National Australia Bank in significant Second Circuit victory in which the court clarified the law governing so-called “foreign-cubed” securities class actions (i.e., cases involving foreign plaintiffs suing foreign companies to recover for losses on foreign exchanges); client subsequently prevailed in Supreme Court (Morrison v. National Australia Bank, 561 U.S. ___ (2010))
- Representing Guinean victim of female genital mutilation seeking asylum, withholding and cancellation of removal in proceedings in immigration court; cancellation of removal was granted after hearing before Immigration Judge
- Developing and pursuing novel claim for petition for U-Visa Nonimmigrant Status for father asserting that he was an indirect victim of an assault on his United States citizen daughter; application granted 2011
- Briefing and arguing pro bono criminal appeal (principally raising Batson issues) before New York State Supreme Court Appellate Division, First Department
- Representing underwriters of Mirant Corporation IPO in successful defense of securities class action suit alleging claims under Section 11 of the 1933 Act
- Representing prominent global bank in responding to multi-year SEC investigation of alleged tax reserve accounting improprieties, preparing witnesses for testimony before SEC staff and preparing two ultimately successful presentations to SEC
- Representing Bausch & Lomb, Inc. in successful defense of shareholder securities class action suits arising from, inter alia, disclosure of accounting improprieties at foreign subsidiaries
- Representing Genesis Health Ventures in all phases of Omnicare, Inc. v. NCS Healthcare, Inc. litigation arising from Genesis’ bid to acquire NCS Healthcare, including briefing before Delaware Supreme Court regarding legitimacy of vote lock-up and other deal protection measures
- Conducting witness interviews and assisting with drafting report for internal investigation into approximately $700 million in losses hidden by rogue foreign exchange trader at Allfirst Bank, subsidiary of Allied Irish Bank
- Coordinating the firm’s Legal Aid Associates’ Campaign (2007-2009)

DAVIS POLK & WARDWELL, New York, NY
